Besides the bride and groom, there the poor both were present from Troy, and its vicinity. I love old Ed Carrie Bradley, Miss Neil, Mr. John Wideman, Mr. Wm. to have a "small and inconsequential" holiday. And lucky will the little children be if they get a good bait of back-bone pie and a pocket full of pop corn. But let us not weep and kick over adverse fate. Let us take the beautiful story of Bethlehem-with a thought now and then of Cleveland and the November returns—and still be happy. By these we shall know that sinners and the Solid South are not without hope.

In another column will be found a card from Prof. Tatum, offering his services to the people of our community. Prof. Ta-tum, who comes among us with excellent testimonials, is a teacher of the elements of thorough-bass, or in plainer English, the very ground-work of musical science and composition. What he teaches is absolutely necessary to musical intelligence and efficiency. Without it, all playing, singing and composition is in a great de-gree a Poll Parrot business. Prof. Tatum's system is an admirable one, and of his eminent success in imparting this sort of knowledge, there is no doubt. We bespeak for Prof. Tatum a goodly class in

Ordained to the Priesthood.

On Sunday last, in St. Philip's Church. Charleston, the Rev. R. W. Barnwell, who, for two years past, has been rector of Grace Church, Ridge Spring, and who has also preached at intervals in the Church of Our Savior, Trenton, was ordained to the priesthood, having served out the period of his deaconate. The rite of ordination was performed by the Right Rev. W B W. Howe, Bishop of the Diocese, assisted by the Rev. John Johnson, rector of St. Philips. Mr. Barnwell is much beloved and highly prized by his people of Ridge Spring and Trenton, and bids fair, even in early youth, to attain a very high place in our Epsecopal ministry. He is a son of the late Rev. Robert W. Barnwellwhose services at Charlottesville, Va., during the civil war, all Carolinians who were in the army of Northern Virginia Rev Wm H. Bartley, one mile North of Johnston, was destroyed by fire The house was built by Mr. Bartley and formerly occupied by him, but more re-cently occupied by School Commissioner G. W. Lott. The house had been unoccupied for two or three days-a vacancy incident to one tenant moving out and another moving in-and there can scarce-ly be any other theory for the origin of the fire than that of incendiarism. CABOT, ARKANSAS, Dec. 12, '84. MESSRS. EDITORS: I noticed in last week's ADVERTISER, in your editorial concerning Arkaneas, that "it were infinitely wiser in the young men to stay where they were-and work hard"-and I ask you the question for whom must they work? Must they fact something new every day, at stay in Carolina and work for those who have homes, and never be able to get a home of their own? No. I think not; it is infinitely wiser for them to come West, where they can get land at a mere song (and land that is far superior to that of Carolina) and where it can be bought withof mortals, this struck me as a memorable out ready cash—with plenty of time to pay for it. Why, Messrs. Editors, South Carolina is getting like old Ireland; tew own land, and those few land; tew own land, and those few own it all; and I think it wise in any young man to leave, who has no home in Carolina, when he can have the many advantages the West gives
